

National Museum of Science and Industry

The National Museum of Science & Industry (NMSI) is the umbrella organisation for the Science Museum (London), National Railway Museum (York) and National Media Museum (Bradford). The museums attract over 4 million visitors annually and hold outstanding collections of international significance.

We are looking for a Director of Finance to work across the NMSI Group. Reporting to the Chief Operating Officer, you will formulate, develop and lead the financial strategy for the Group as a whole, providing a robust framework to support the achievement of all three of the Museums and the broader organisational goals. With a thorough understanding of the financial risk and legal issues, you will play a pivotal role in enabling decision-making, driving value for money and ensuring effective governance.

A qualified accountant (CA, CIMA, ACCA or CIPFA), you must have significant experience of government, charitable and commercial accounting, including auditing and statutory compliance. A proven track record of strategic thinking, setting standards, reviewing financial operations and implementing best practice is essential.

Please click through to our recruitment pages for detailed information, including the full job description, a candidate brief and instructions on how to apply.

Location:	Science Museum, South Kensington
Category:	Financial
Duration:
Type of Contract:	Permanent
Hours:	Full Time
added: Jan. 17, 2012	deadline: Feb. 5, 2012

More information: <http://www.sciencemuseum.org.uk/jobs>