

Media Officer

Natural History Museum

The Natural History Museum is one of the world's leading museums, internationally recognised for its dual role as a leader in the presentation of natural history through exhibitions, public programmes, publications and the web, and as a centre of excellence in scientific research.

We are looking for an experienced media relations professional to join our busy PR team promoting our block buster exhibitions, events and science.

You have a track record of planning, delivering and evaluating successful media relations campaigns, are able to shape stories for both traditional and social media, and have a good spread of relevant contacts.

You enjoy applying your resourcefulness and creative thinking in your work and have a knack for expressing complex ideas simply. You will be itching to use your outstanding people skills, and excellent selling-in, copywriting and proofing abilities, to reach both new audiences and long-standing fans.
