

Secondary Schools Programme Manager

Museum of London

As the leading museum for London, we tell the story of the world's greatest city and its people – so why not make this the place to discover your story of London?

Fixed term maternity cover to 31 December 2013 with the possibility of extension, subject to funding.

This is an exciting opportunity to join our award-winning schools team and to build on our extensive and highly successful programme for secondary schools that reaches over 40,000 pupils each year.

As well as managing existing museum- and school-based sessions and study days, you will lead the development of an ambitious outreach programme and the creation of secondary school activities and resources to support the new London Curriculum and the revised National Curriculum.

We are looking for someone with a passion for museum learning and a track record of developing and delivering provision for secondary schools, ideally in a heritage or arts setting. You will need to have excellent organisational, interpersonal and project management skills, and enjoy working in a creative, fast-paced team environment.

The closing date for applications is 3rd June at 17:00. Interviews will be held on 12th June 2013.

The Museum of London is committed to equal opportunities and diversity.
